SUPERIOR COURT ADJOURNS

Land Damage Case Verdict and Divorces Made Public.

Judge Chamberlain on Friday afternoon, adjourned court until some future date, possibly the week after Thanksgiving as it is thought that Judge Plummer will not be able to come here before that date.

During the afternoon the jury in the case of the city of Manchester vs. Lavessue, for damages on certain lands at Auburn, at Lake Massabesic, awarded the damage at $8249.50, this a little over $100 more than the County Commissioners appraised the land.

Judge Chamberlain has during the present term granted the following divorce cases:

Florence McKenzie, Portsmouth from Archibald; abandonment.

Mary D. F. Smith, Portsmouth, from William W.; abandonment.

Annie T. Thomas, Epping, from Daniel R.; abandonment.

Annie May Bradley, Newton, from Frank; abandonment.

Cora E. Stackpole, Portsmouth, from Frederick; abandonment.

Mable S. Smith Derry, from Edward P.; extreme cruelty.

Fred H. Pender, Northwood, from Belle; adultery.

Edith L. Hill, Northwood from Fred R.; abandonment.

Charlotte J. Martin, Portsmouth, from William; extreme cruelty.

Fred A. Heath, Kingston, from Grace; abandonment.

Kate L. Tilton, Deerfield, from Fred O.; abandonment.

Nellie C. Marshall, Seabrook, from Edmund B.; extreme cruelty.

Georgiana St. Cyr, Raymond, from Isaac; willing absence.

Edith M. Pratt, Sandown, from David; abandonment.

Mary N. Millay, Windham from Arthur B.; conduct injurious to health.

BIG TIM SULLIVAN SICK

Hot Springs, Ark., Nov. 13.—"Big Tim" Sullivan of New York was assisted from a train here on Friday, placed in a carriage in which two physicians, wired for in advance, were waiting, and hurried to a hotel where an anxious period was spent in physical examination.

En route from New York Sullivan caught cold, and while coughing violently a "stitch" was caught in his side. He suffered severely from the incident and, fearing an attack of pleurisy, wired ahead for the physicians.

Drs. F. M. Jellis and J. M. Kellar examined Sullivan and said afterward that they did not believe his condition was serious, though he is being carefully watched for developments.

NEWINGTON WOMAN

To be the Matron of New City Hospital at Franklin

Franklin, Nov. 13.—Miss Ida A. Nutter of Newington was elected matron of the new City hospital at a meeting of the trustees Friday afternoon.

Miss Nutter has had much experience in hospital work and for six years was at the Cottage hospital in Laconia. The hospital will open on Jan. 1.

Local firms are getting in their orders for 1910 calendars.

WONDERFUL NORTH DAKOTA

Captain Thomas E. Evans Talks of the New Battleship

Captain Thomas E. Evans of the navy yard tug, who had command of the North Dakota, arrived home today. In speaking of the trial trip he was very enthusiastic over what the ship did.

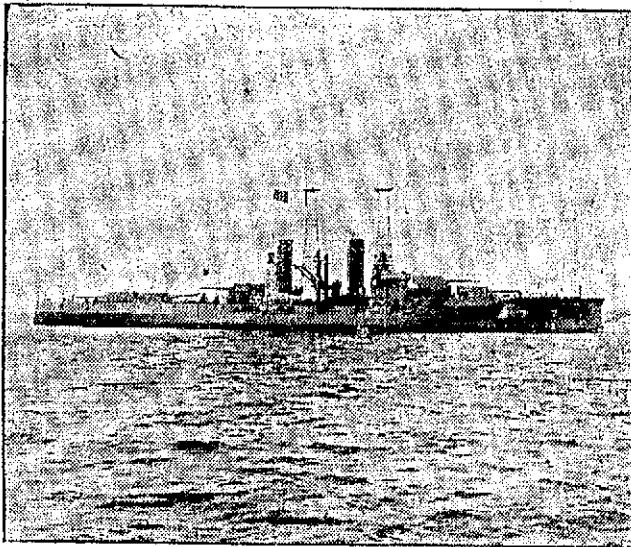

Said he, "I entered Portsmouth harbor at a sixteen knot clip and if there had been dock room at the navy yard I would have come up to land the injured men."

The North Dakota, as already mentioned in these columns, is now at Quincy, Mass.

The official figures of the navy de-with the specified limit of 15.1 pounds equivalent to a saving of 7 1/2 per cent. During the 24 hours of the 19 knot trial the saving was 5 per cent.—the difference between 16.1 specified and 15.29 actual,—while for the same period of the 12 knot trial the actual was only 22.3 pounds as against 23.2 specified, equivalent to a saving of nearly 4 per cent.

From a practical point of view the low coal consumption at low speed is the most important result shown by these trials, for it measures the maximum steam radius under cruising partment show that not only did she much exceed the specified speed of 21 knots but that with the Curtis turbines the necessary power was produced with considerably less than the contract requirements for water consumption.

The corrected figures show that during three hours of the full power trial the turbines and engineer's auxiliaries used only 13.96 pounds of water, in the form of steam, as compared conditions without re-coaling. This distance, which is materially greater than that of her sister ship the Delaware, fitted with reciprocating engines, is without question due to the higher efficiency of the turbine type of engines. At 12 knot speed the steaming radius for the North Dakota figures 5600 knots, while it is 4000 knots at 18 knot speed and at a maximum of 21 1/2 knots it is 3000 knots.

PEOPLES' OPINIONS

Rabbi Fleischer

The brief summary of the doctrine of Rabbi Fleischer contained in your issue of Nov. 12 makes one somewhat skeptical of the great advantage to be gained from the recent Jewish-Christian interchange of pupils. According to this statement the distinguished Jewish scholar denies the divinity of Christ, the Biblical story of creation the efficacy of prayer and the existence of a personal God. What has Monismism to offer us in the place of all these good things which are still held precious by an intellectual remnant? Possibly we may have to seek consolation in such philosophy as Prof. James offers us in "Pragmatism," a book whose message has been summarized thus: "You may believe anything you like, change your mind as often as you please, and the other man is always wrong."

LAP DOGS

May be carried in the cars by Passengers

Society women who have been putting up a fight against the railroads because they were not allowed to carry their pet dogs in passenger cars appear to have won the fight for the same.

The rule was that all canines were to be banished to the baggage car in transportation and there was no end of growling and kicking on the part of the owners. Baggage masters were not stuck on the job of riding with howling and barking dogs, and they had a kick on their part, besides a dog in a baggage car is always in the way.

During the summer months protests came thick and fast from all sides.

Pretty women would alight from a pullman or passenger coach and rush forward to the baggage car, demanding that their poochie be surrendered to them immediately. The lithoric pumpered canine was usually found tied to the leg of a chair or to the strap of a big trunk and when nestled once more in the arms of its owner tears of sympathy were oftentimes shed over him.

The ruling now is modified to the following instructions, "A passenger may be permitted to carry in coach a small lap dog in a dog basket or other properly covered receptacle."

Friday Night Whist Party Held by the Yacht Club

Kittery, Me., Nov. 13.
Kittery correspondent's telephone 297.5.

The enthusiastic audience which on Friday evening filled Traip Academy to overflowing is now awaiting with almost impatience the next production of the senior class for the reason that the benefit of last night almost passed the bounds of amateur theatricals, and exceeded the most sanguine expectations as to its excellence. The feature of the evening was the Juree, "The Bachelors," which was included in the "Living Magazine." The story was written by Miss Alice Coes, and its brightness and snapshiness only further emphasized its author's histrionic ability. Small wonder that Miss Alice has been class president since her entrance into T. A. The parts were splendidly taken: Berenice Glidden as Geraldine St. Clair, Bertha Seaward as Dorothy Whitman, Alice Coes as Elsie Fairfax and Olive Call as Marie a maid. The impersonations of magazine advertisements without exception evoked vociferous applause, and all were repeatedly encouraged. Before and after the performance the sale of cake, candy and punch went on with a rush which must have sent a golden tide into the class coffers. For the masterly manner in which the entertainment went off throughout we have to thank a committee consisting of Miss Berenice Glidden, Herbert Tobey and Ernest Baker. The attraction of the candy table was rendered more irresistible through the efforts of Florence Webber, Eva Lambert Ruth Baker and Bertha Seaward, while the lure of the cake and fruit punch table was made more compelling by the labors of Evelyn Raynes, Fannie Emery, Louise Lewis and Marion Cuts, all of whom scoured the town for the best expressions of Kittery housewives' culinary skill. And we guess they succeeded. The case was:

PEARL HARBOR NAVAL STATION

To be Made the Greatest in the Pacific Ocean

Washington, Nov. 13.—President Taft has approved the recommendation of the joint army and navy board for making Pearl Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands, the great naval station in the Pacific. A temporary naval station only will be constructed at Olongapo in the Philippines and the proposed improvement in Manila Harbor will be abandoned. This will leave the protection of the Philippine Islands to the army.

For years a fierce controversy has been waged as to whether the principal fortification in the Philippines should be located at Olongapo or Cavite. The navy favored Olongapo and the army Manila Bay, on the ground that Olongapo could not be protected from land attacks.

The big floating dry dock Dewey will be retained at Olongapo, but such improvements as are made at this point, now estimated to cost between $200,000 and $300,000, will be with the idea of removing the Dewey to some other port in case of danger from attack.

SURGEON TO COMMAND

Hospital Ship with a Crew of Civilians

Washington, Nov. 12.—Following a conference with President Taft, Mr. Meyer, secretary of the navy, has announced that the hospital ship Solace will go into commission with Surgeon George Pickrell in command. This is in line with Mr. Roosevelt's "surgeon in command" order, which brought about the resignation of Rear Admiral Brownson as chief of the bureau of navigation on Christmas eve, 1907. But Secretary Meyer has decided to have no paymaster or member of any other than the medical corps under command of Surgeon Pickrell, so that one of the principal objections to Mr. Roosevelt's order is avoided.

According to the present arrangement the Solace will have a merchant crew and a merchant sailing master. The pay of the crew will be in the hands of the fleet paymaster. The officers of the line are fairly well satisfied with the new order, pointing out that in time of peace there is practically no chance for dual authority aboard the ship, such as existed under the Roosevelt order when the paymaster was aboard. If the paymaster had flatly refused to obey orders from the surgeon in command no action could have been taken against him, as the order issued by the surgeon would have been stamped as illegal under the navy regulations.

NAVY ORDERS

Commander A. Graves to office of assistant secretary of navy, navy department.

Lieutenant Commander L. S. Thompson from bureau of equipment, navy department, to the South Carolina as navigating officer.

Midshipman D. H. Stuart to the Nebraska.

Lieutenant Commander G. S. Lincoln from the Pennsylvania to duty as fleet engineer, third squadron, Pacific fleet, on the Charleston.

Lieutenant M. C. Cook from the South Dakota to the Pennsylvania.

Arrived—Hull at Key West. Sailed—Cattellus and Wick from New York for Charleston; Sargent from Panama for San Francisco; Marcellos from Boston for Hampton Roads.

Hospital ship Solace placed in service at the navy yard, Charleston, S. C., duty with Atlantic fleet.

NEWFIELDS

Mrs. Edward Seville and children of Newfields were in over Thursday visiting relatives.

Henry O. Jones has bought from Mrs. Marvin and Dixon the Hutton place on Pleasant road.

The death of Miss Mary Eleanor Beal occurred on Friday at the age of eighty-three years, at the home of her brother, Edward J. Beal, after a long illness. She was born in Portsmouth, Jan. 17, 1826, the daughter of Josiah and Eleanor (Webster) Beal, being one of a family of seven children. Her early life was spent in that city, where she was an active member of the Universalist church and for many years was a teacher in the Sunday school. She joined the church under the late Dr. A. J. Patterson, pastor emeritus of the First Universalist church of Roxbury, Mass., who died last week. For many years she was a resident of Boston, with a brother, Henry R. Beal, one of the city's leading merchants conducting business as a partner of the firm of Beal, Higgins and Henderson. Since his death she had made a residence with her brother, Edward J. Beal, who survives her. The funeral services will be held Monday and the body taken to Portsmouth for interment Tuesday.

Dr. Dayton C. Wiggin, U. S. A., who has recently completed a term of service at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., was married in Washington, D. C., on Wednesday to Marion Virginia Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Williamson of that city. They are to leave immediately for San Francisco, stopping at different points of interest on their way across the continent, and on Dec. 6 are to sail for the Philippines, where he is to be stationed two years as United States army surgeon. Dr. Wiggin is a native of this town, a graduate from Phillips Exeter Academy in 1892, and Baltimore Medical school. He has been in the United States army for two years and is the son of Mrs. Isabella J. Wiggin of this town.

Fred A. Spend is visiting friends in Providence, R. I.

NEWMARKET

A happy surprise party was given Wednesday evening to Miss Lillian Phillips, at her home on Maple street, by the members of the Freshman class of the Newmarket High school. The party was composed of thirty or more of the class and friends of the school and family. A short program was prepared and carried out. Games were played, refreshments served and all had a jolly good time. Miss Lillian was the recipient of a beautiful gold locket, with her initials in the form of a monogram.

Fifteen members of Lamney River Grange visited Seaboard Grange at Durham Tuesday evening, it being inspection of the latter grange.

James Percy Hutton of Manchester, England, will sing solos from the Messiah Sunday forenoon at the Congregational church. The male quartet will also sing.

Dr. Charles A. Morse arrived on Thursday from a hunting trip to Berlin, N. H. He shot two large bucks, a big black bear and a large cub. The bear measured nine feet long.

George F. Doe, while cutting firewood cut off the fore finger of the left hand. It was necessary to amputate the member close to the hand.

Mr. and Mrs. James Percy Hutton of Manchester, England, arrived in Newmarket last Sunday to take up their residence here. They came over on the Campania.

H. H. I. Smith of Quincy, Mass., was in town Wednesday, to look after the reinterment of the remains of his father and little son, who died in Ansonia, Conn., 23 years ago, in the family lot at Riverside cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Pillsbury of East Holliston, Mass., former Newmarket residents, were visitors here last Saturday and Sunday.

W. H. Small, F. A. Brackett, A. H. Davis and C. S. Wentworth attended the banquet of the Portsmouth Yacht club Wednesday evening.

George A. Gray, Woman's Relief Corps will hold a harvest supper in Grand Army hall Friday, Nov. 19.

Mrs. Irving A. Caswell of Boston visited friends here the first of the week.

The residence of Gen. R. E. Graves has been repainted in a handsome cream color.

HARRIMAN'S SEAT

In New York Stock Exchange Worth Fifty Times What He Paid For It

New York, Nov. 13.—Robert H. Loeb, who is associated with Herzfeld and Stern, has bought the stock exchange seat of Edward H. Harriman for $50,000.

This membership was the start of Mr. Harriman's financial success. He bought the seat thirty-nine years ago at $1500 and borrowed the money to pay for it from his uncle, Oliver Harriman.

The estate of Mr. Harriman received $10,000 from the maturity fund of the stock exchange, so the present value of his original investment of $1500 is $25,000.

Mr. Harriman had not been on the floor of the exchange in many years. Generally debilitated for years, he had sick headaches, lacked ambition, was worn-out and all run-down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman."—Mrs. Chas. Frolloy, Moosup, Conn.

Theatrical Topics of the Day.

Next Monday's Great Play

Briefly stated, the story of "The Servant in the House," the widely discussed and phenomenally successful play which is to be presented at the Portsmouth Music Hall next Monday night, by Henry Miller's Associate Players, concerns the lives of three brothers.

One of these brothers twenty years before the opening of the play, has gone to India and passed out of touch with the two brothers who remained in England. One of these is a Church of England clergyman and the other is a social outcast, a cleaner of drains, a veritable scum who has sunk lower and lower in the social scale until he has become an enigma.

The clergyman, forgetting that one of the fundamental principles of the religion which he preached was the love of one's brother, has shut the doors of his home to the outcast and has refused to recognize him. He has also brought up the scoundrel's daughter in complete ignorance of her father.

When the play opens a mysterious Oriental has taken a place in the house of the clergyman as a butler. He is in reality the Bishop of Benares, the brother who disappeared in India twenty years before. To this house comes the Brahman, with a black passion against his brother in his heart and a father's desire to see his little girl.

The action of the play revolves around the mysterious influence which the Oriental servant exercises on everyone with who he is and classical roles; Charles Dalton, an English actor who came to this country first to play Marcus Superbus in "The Sign of the Cross," and who has been playing leading roles ever since, and Lizzie Hudson Collier, one of the best known and most competent leading women on the American stage.

Christian Science and the Stage

Christian Science has made great headway among theatrical people and many of the most prominent artists have taken up that beautiful system of ethics. The company announced to appear in Avery Wood's play of real life, "This Woman and This Man," is most entirely brought into contact. By some supernatural power of divination he sees into their very souls and points out not only their weaknesses but the real cure for them. And that cure is the oldest and surest of all remedies for afflictions of the spirit—love of one's fellow and hard work.

It is hardly necessary, in view of the widespread discussion of the play in the past year, to add that the central figure is intended as a re-incarnation of Christ. This part will be played here by that eminent classical actor, Creston Clarke. Others in the cast include Charles Dalton and Lizzie Hudson Collier.

"The Servant in the House" is described as a play to all classes of theatregoers. For those who go to the playhouse merely for mental relaxation, to be freed from the fretful cares and worries of daily life there is a vivid, virile, powerful story making a strong emotional appeal and for the thinking men and women who seek education and inspiration in the theatre there is a lesson of compelling force, a lesson as old as the rock ribbed hills—the lesson that true happiness comes only to those who love their fellow men.

made up of Christian Scientists and their hopeful, peaceful lives are a model to other organizations.

"This Woman and This Man" with dainty Minnie Victorson in the lead role will be seen next Tuesday at Music Hall.

THE CANAAN SKELETON

Is Thought to be That of a Tramp Wood Chopper

Canaan Nov. 13.—The identity of the skeleton found in Orange still remains a mystery, but it is thought possible that it may have been a tramp.

A year ago last winter a lot was being cleared of wood in the vicinity of where the body was found, and Orro Powell had a camp and employed several men on the job, which he had taken from a local lumberman.

Two men who happened along were hired by him and they resided in a shanty on this lot. They disappeared for a few days, and when one of the men returned a stranger accompanied him. One day they came to this village to trade and started back at night with several packages and somewhat under the influence of liquor; one of the men returned to the shanty and the other never put in an appearance, but as they were travelling but nothing was thought of his failure to return. As the place where this body was found is in a direct line to the camp it is thought quite possible that the man may have been overcome and expired from alcoholism.

The bones were removed to the local undertakers by the selectmen of Orange, and nothing whatever except a pipe and jackknife were found about the clothing for identification. The man disappeared in the spring of 1908, and the condition of the bones seem to indicate that they had been exposed about that length of time.

It is not thought that the man met with foul play, as the body does not have that appearance.

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, Nov. 13.—One of the week's most enjoyable social events took place on Friday evening when the Locomotives' union of the Pacific mills entertained guests at a dancing party held in their cozy little hall. A number of invited guests from out of town were present and all spent an evening of much pleasure. Young and Marden furnished the music for the event.

The Dover Woman's club has been fortunate in securing the services of Judge Willis Brown, who will come here to address the club and public. Judge Brown is famous all over the country for his influence with boys, and he will be greeted with a fine audience upon his initial appearance here as a lecturer.

At the meeting of Mt. Pleasant lodge of Odd Fellows, on Friday evening, the initiatory degree was conferred on a class of candidates.

The Newburyport Athletic club football team will come here today with a strong team to line up against the Dover team. The local boys feel confident that they can get the long end of the game.

A tangled affair, which in spite of the difficulties attending it, proved to be a most pleasurable event, took place last evening in the vestry of the Pierce Memorial church when the Y. P. C. U. entertained a large number of guests at a "cobweb" party. On entering the vestry the guests were confronted with an impenetrable tangle of so-called webs not unlike the jungle of darkest Africa and it was the task to unravel the webs correctly by finding the starting point and the termination.

Accompanied by a large number of loving relatives and near friends, the remains of Mrs. Catherine Kellier, formerly of this city, who died at her home in Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 10, of cancer, were brought here on Friday and conveyed to the family burial lot in St. Mary's cemetery for interment. A large delegation of Dover friends were at the railroad station to receive the funeral party. The deceased was aged 40 years, and was formerly Miss Catherine Mulcahy of this city.

IN EARLY MORNING

On Saturday, Nov. 27, the Moon Will Be Eclipsed

There will be a total eclipse of the moon, visible generally throughout the United States, on the morning of Nov. 27. The moon will enter the earth's shadow from the southwest at 2:32 a. m., and totality will begin at 3:34. The total eclipse will last till 4:56 with the middle of the eclipse at 4:15. The moon leaves the shadow at 5:54 and the eclipse is over.

During the year 1910 there will be four eclipses, two of the sun and two of the moon. The eclipses of the sun are not visible here, but both eclipses of the moon are visible which will be total eclipses; the first March 23 and 24 and the second, on Nov. 10.

4N ARMY 43 YEARS

Major General John F. Weston, Who Retires Today

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—After 48 years of active service in the United States army, Maj. Gen. John F. Weston, commander of the department of California, retires today, having reached the age limit. General Weston entered the army during the civil war when 16 years old. He was presented by congress a medal of honor for conspicuous bravery and later served under General Custer.

Under General Shafter, during the Spanish-American war, he was chief of commissary and was later made commissary general, from which post he went to command in the Philippines. He became the head of this department a year ago and for several months has been in poor health.

NEW PRESIDENT OF WESLEYAN

TAFT ATTENDS CEREMONY

Cheriman, Root and Other Notable
Men Also Participate in Installation —President Says College Men Must Take Part in Nation's Affairs—Senator
Deprecates Rich Men's Fight
For the "Almighty Dollar"

Middletown, Conn., Nov. 13.—President Taft sat in a chair which once belonged to President George Washington on the stage of the Middlesex theatre at the installation of Wesleyan's new president, Dr. William Arnold Shanklin. The chair came from Washington's New York headquarters and is the property of the Middlesex Historical society.

The ruling theme of the day was that of personality. The union of the educational force of east and west was celebrated, but far more were the achievements of Wesleyan in building character and turning out men extolled by the various speakers, and a brilliant future was bespoken for the institution under the new regime.

It is doubtful if any college president's inauguration was ever attended by both the president and vice president of the United States. For President Taft and Vice President Sherman sat together on the stage, and with them were Senator Root, United States Commissioner of Education Brown, Arnold Shanklin, consul general to Panama, and many others. The gathering of delegates from all the other colleges and universities was a tribute of which Wesleyan may well feel proud.

While the installation exercises were taking place Middletown was celebrating the event of President Taft, the first president of the United States to visit her since Andrew Jackson came, with a civic and military parade of great length and brilliancy and last evening there was an illumination and automobile parade which did the city proud while President Shanklin was receiving the many guests at his home on High street.

The exercises attendant upon the installation filled the Middlesex theatre to overflowing and occupied several hours. The program included an invocation by Bishop Bart of the Methodist church and the induction by Henry C. M. Ingraham, D.D., of New York, president of the board of trustees. President Shanklin responded briefly to this and Professor Hice, who has been acting president during the interim between the resignation of President Raymond and the coming of President Shanklin, welcomed the new president on behalf of the faculty.

The bestowal of degrees of doctor of laws on President Taft and Elihu Root were features of the ceremonies.

A plea for the college man to take his part in shaping the affairs of the nation and an argument against placing money getters at the head of educational institutions were the main points of President Taft's address.

"I do not know how great an influence the college men have in this nation, but I do know that they must take part in nation's affairs if they want to see their land go forward and upward," said the president. He congratulated the university "that it did not listen to the cry that it must get a president who was full of business and would go out and raise money in any quantity, making education a second thought."

"A business man is not expected to be a college president, neither should an educator expect to be a success as a business man. He was raised at a pedagogical and should remain one." Senator Root in his address confined himself almost wholly to an appreciation and tribute to Dr. Shanklin. He declared the world was filled with many men today who when they have won fortune know nothing to do but to go on and increase that fortune.

"You of Wesleyan, however," he added, "educate men on a broader view of life, to literary and scientific ambitions. The pendulum has already swung too far in the way of instructing men to do one thing for themselves. Instead of educating them to do great things for the world by being great men."

Taft at Dedication of Arsenal
Hartford, Nov. 13.—President Taft, added a New England trip to his long western and southern trip by a visit to Hartford, participating in this city yesterday in the dedication of the magnificent new state arsenal and armory, where he climbed on a table to speak. The president left at 10:30 p. m. for Washington, where he will arrive this afternoon. He went direct to his train from a state ball in the armory.

Made Boy Eat From Dog's Dish
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 13.—James Kelley and his wife, Mary, of Pine Plains, were indicted here on a charge that the Kelleys beat 6-year-old Charles Williams, a boy "farmed" out to them, that they starved the child and made him eat from the dog's dish outside the kitchen door.

GUILTY OF KILLING GIRL

Young Cambridge Man Will Be Sentenced to Prison For Life

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 13.—John W. Brown of Cambridge celebrated his 21st birthday by pleading guilty to murder in the second degree before Judge Morton. The penalty is imprisonment for life. He will be sentenced Wednesday.

Brown shot and killed Miss Laura Bland, 16 years of age, and wounded Mrs. Emma Caraglia, her sister, 23 years old, when they refused to admit him to the Bland home at Newton. Brown was in love with Josephine Bland, a sister of Laura, the murdered girl.

He had been engaged to Josephine, but failed to appear at the Bland home on the day set for the wedding. When he did appear on Feb. 19 the sisters of the girl refused to admit him, as they had always opposed his suit. He broke into the house and shot Laura dead. Then he fired at Mrs. Caraglia. He missed her. Josephine hid in a closet and escaped. Brown then fired a shot into his breast, inflicting a slight wound.

SCOFFS AT BURGLAR STORY

Prosecutor Shows Neither Pity Nor Mercy For Mme. Steinhell

Paris, Nov. 13.—The entire session of the Steinhell murder case yesterday was taken up with an impassioned plea by Advocate General Rielle for the conviction of the woman who is charged with having killed her husband and her stepmother.

The prosecutor showed neither pity nor mercy in his address to the jury. He painted the accused woman in the blackest of colors—as the most wicked type of woman, a born liar and as one whose whole life, before and after the crime, justified the presumption of her guilt.

Against Mme. Steinhell's story that burglars committed the crime, the prosecutor insisted that they were myths.

GOVERNMENT ACTS ON CUSTOMS FRAUDS

High Sugar Official Produces

Cash Bail When Arrested

New York, Nov. 13.—After many months of quiet work behind the scenes by the government investigators who have been scrutinizing the imports and exports of the complicated sugar import trade, there suddenly came the indictment and arrest of an important former officer of the American Sugar Refining company.

He is charged with conspiracy to defraud the government by false weighing of sugar, and he is James P. Bendermager, for more than thirty years superintendent of the refinery in Williamsburg, the largest plant of the American Sugar Refining company.

Bendermager's resignation from this responsible position was announced by the company only Thursday. He was arrested at his home in Brooklyn, where he was awaiting news from the grand jury, which he evidently expected.

When arraigned before Commissioner Benedict and asked to give $5000 bail for his appearance at an examination set for next Monday, he produced a roll of bills from a waistcoat pocket and counted out the required amount in cash.

WITH BABE IN HER ARMS

Mother Deliberately Kills Herself and Little One With Gas

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 13.—When Mrs. Frank Brodeur tried of this world she carried with her into eternity her 4-months-old baby. Mrs. Brodeur turned on a gas cook, closed doors and windows in the kitchen of her home, and then seated herself in a chair in the middle of the room with the little baby in her arms.

In this posture she was found by her husband, Frank Brodeur, a workman, when he returned home from work last night. Family troubles, which had led to petty arguments between husband and wife, are understood to be responsible for Mrs. Brodeur's act.

ROBBED THE CITY

Highway Foreman Gets Thirteen Months For Forgery and Larceny

Somerville, Mass., Nov. 13.—The plea of a wife begging for mercy from Justice Wentworth was unavailing in the case of William W. Smith, Jr., accused of forgery and larceny against the city of Somerville, and he was sentenced to thirteen months in prison. Justice Wentworth remarked that it was a pathetic case, but that as Smith had been guilty of forgery and forgery while serving the city as a highway foreman, the offences could not be consistently ignored.

Indian Land Sale Enjoined

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 13.—Federal Judge Campbell has granted an injunction to the department of the interior restraining the thirty-seven counties of eastern Oklahoma from selling Indian lands for taxes. The question involves the right of the state to tax lands of Indians that were exempted from taxation by Indian treaties.

CAIRO IS QUIET AFTER LYNCHING

Excitement Quelled by the Presence of Troops

BAYONETS HOLDING SWAY

Slayer Suspect Escorted From Jail to Special Train by Seven Companies of Militia—Two Men Lynched Met Death at Hands of "Persons Unknown" to Coroner's Jury—Sheriff Recognized Several Lynchers

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 13.—With Arthur Alexander, the last of the persons arrested in connection with the murder of Miss Annie Pelley, safely out of town and the Fourth regiment, Illinois National Guard, on guard in the streets and about the jail, the mob spirit that kept Cairo ablaze with excitement for four days is quelled.

No crowds are allowed to gather at any place and every known danger point is occupied by troops.

Bayonets hold sway where the rope, the torch and the pistol have been in evidence. Alexander, implicated in the murder of Miss Pelley by the dying announcement of "Froggy" James, one of the victims of Thursday night's mob, was sent to an unannounced point north of Cairo late yesterday. He was escorted from the jail to a special train, on the Illinois Central railroad by seven companies of militia, two of which guarded the negro on the train during the trip.

There were jeers for the militia from the small crowd that watched the departure.

Two sets of fours were in advance of the prisoner, who was handcuffed and flanked by deputy sheriffs, and two sets of fours followed. Three companies with bayonets fixed and two sets of fours followed. Three companies with bayonets fixed cleared the street in advance of the escort and a like number followed in the rear, keeping back the crowds that augmented at every cross street of the half mile march to the train.

Sheriff Davis, who made strenuous and repeated efforts for two days to save James from lynching, says that disposition of Alexander has been left to state officers. He has begun investigating the riots of Thursday night.

When James, the negro lynched, was captured at Belknap and while he was being brought to Cairo he absolutely refused to make a confession, but when the rope was around his neck and he was given his last chance to make a statement he said: "I killed her, but Alexander took the lead."

Before the fire was started, the negro's body was cut up and pieces were passed among the men as souvenirs. Pieces of the rope with which he was hanged, after being soaked in the negro's blood, were also handed about. There is nothing left of the negro's body but a pile of bones, but huge crowds of women are visiting the spot where he died.

The lynching of Henry Salzer, the white man, for the murder of his wife on Aug. 15 last, was a rebuke to delayed justice. The people asked for an immediate trial and ever since the case was put off by the court, dissatisfaction has been universal. Salzer's wife recovered enough to state that "he did it" before she died.

Coroner's verdicts were rendered on the two men lynched Thursday night, and in each case the jury found that "he came to his death by injuries at the hands of persons unknown to us."

Sheriff Davis, in a long interview, told of having recognized several members of the mob which took James from his care. He named the postmaster and a storekeeper of Kanak, Ill., as having accompanied some of the scouting parties which searched the woods for the sheriff and his prisoner.

Mayor Parsons says that he was asleep Thursday night and heard no shot or other sound to indicate that the city of which he is chief executive was in the grasp of a lawless horde.

Sheriff Davis says that after the rioters captured him and James the leaders assured him that all they asked was that James be taken back to Cairo and given a speedy trial.

IMMIGRANTS QUARANTINED

More Than Two Hundred to Be Held Eight Days For Observation

Boston, Nov. 13.—As a result of the discovery of a case of smallpox aboard the White Star liner Cauponic on her arrival here last Tuesday, 242 immigrants, who had been detained aboard the ship since her arrival, were taken to Gallipoli Island yesterday for observation.

Although no signs of infection have appeared among the immigrants, Dr. Carson, the port physician, is of the opinion that it will be wise to hold them in quarantine for eight days.

Fire Insurance Tax Void

Richmond, Nov. 13.—Judge Grinn has handed down a decision in which he declares unconstitutional the act providing for a tax of 1 percent on the revenues of fire insurance companies doing business in Virginia, the tax to go to the support of disabled firemen and their dependent families.

REBUKE IN BAY STATE

La Follette Rejoices Over the Result of Last Week's Election

Madison, Wis., Nov. 13.—"There will come a day when the people will rise in righteous revolt against these enemies of the nation and drive them from the high places they have taken by stealth and treachery."

This is the statement made by Senator La Follette in his weekly magazine in commenting upon the defeat by the money interests of Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland and of Francis J. Henry of San Francisco in last week's elections. He says such results are "no discouragement."

He rejoices over Massachusetts' protest against the tariff law by cutting the Republican plurality from 112,000 in 1907 to 9000 this year. He says the election returns show "that the rank and file of the Republican party in Massachusetts are in open rebellion against the manner in which party pledges were repudiated by the Aldrich-Cannon machine in congress."

FOR FINISHING TOUCHES

Battleship North Dakota Is Again in Hands of Her Builders

Quincy, Mass., Nov. 13.—The big battleship North Dakota was brought safely through the crooked channel up to her dock at the Fore River shipyard, where the finishing touches will be given prior to turning her over to the United States government.

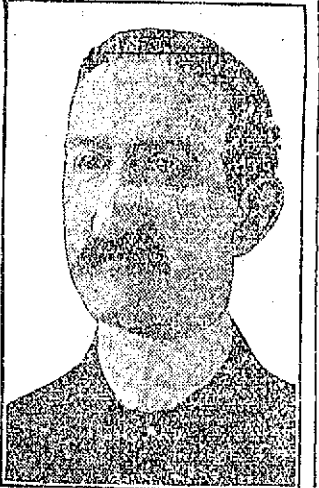

According to the official figures of the navy department, she not only exceeded the specified speed of 21 knots, but at a 12-knot speed, the steaming radius for the North Dakota figures 9000 knots, while it is 4000 knots at 19-knot speed and at a maximum of 21½ knots it is 3000 knots.

These distances are materially greater than that of her sister ship, the Delaware, fitted with reciprocating engines.

HIBBARD IS URGED TO QUIT CONTEST

Committee Want Someone Else to Fight Fitzgerald

Boston, Nov. 13.—Tremendous influences are being brought to bear for the withdrawal of Mayor Hibbard from the majority field, according to the facts which have come to light in the city campaign.

GEORGE A. HIBBARD

A member of the committee of nine is authority for the statement that Chairman Hamlin, in a conference with ex-Mayor Curtis, urged Curtis to take a hand in straightening out the situation so that some candidate other than Hibbard should be backed against ex-Mayor Fitzgerald. Curtis refused his aid and Senator Lodge also declined to interfere in the matter.

CAN'T FUSS OVER FOOD

Why a St. Louis Miss Became Wife of "Human Ostrich"

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Terrence O'Grady, who until yesterday was Miss Gertrude Arnold, and is now the wife of the "human ostrich," said that she had fallen in love with O'Grady when she saw him eating tacks at one of his exhibitions. "I thought I would like to cook for a man like that," she said. "He can't fuss at what I prepare for the table."

The couple were married by Justice Martin Moore. Mrs. O'Grady says her husband has promised to teach her the art of eating tacks and glass.

Gaynor Spent No Campaign Money
Albany, Nov. 13.—William J. Gaynor, mayor-elect of New York, filed a statement with Secretary of State Koenig in which he swears that he did not expend any money in aid of his election, "either directly or indirectly, myself or through any other person."

Car Kills Buck Deer
Palmer, Mass., Nov. 13.—A Worcester trolley car ran down a herd of four deer just before reaching Palmer. A large buck, evidently blinded by the electric headlights, stood its ground, and was struck and killed.

Milk Train Kills Three Men
Port Jervis, N. Y., Nov. 13.—A milk train on the Erie railroad ran down a gang of track laborers during a fog. Three were killed and the fourth badly hurt.

THE PINCHOT- BALLINGER ROW

President Is Endeavoring to Act as Peacemaker

TASK SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE

Possibility of Secretary Wilson Leaving Cabinet If Pinchot's Scalp Is Taken by Secretary of Interior—Latter Withdraws More Land in Several States in the West, Saving Valuable Water Power Rights

Washington, Nov. 13.—President Taft does not intend that his administration shall lose the services of either Richard Ballinger, secretary of the interior, or Gifford Pinchot, forester, if he can help it. Even the members of his cabinet are in the dark as to what his plans are, but they have every reason to believe that he still hopes to be able to settle the so-called Ballinger-Pinchot quarrel, now more acute than ever before, without any break in his administration forces.

Outsiders are as a rule coming more to the belief that Mr. Taft has an impossible task on his hands.

There is no confirmation to be had of the story that Ballinger has served notice on the president that unless Pinchot is removed from the public service he will get out. It is plain that Ballinger is in an unhappy frame of mind. As the situation stands today the chief of a bureau in a subordinate branch of the government service is practically defying him.

The quarrel has numerous ramifications and presents many possibilities. Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, who is Pinchot's superior officer, has kept silent up to this time, but it is well understood that he is standing by the forester. Other members of the cabinet are in sympathy with the Pinchot side of the controversy.

Persons who ought to know say that if the cabinet were polled the result would probably show five members supporting Ballinger and three inclined to be in sympathy with Pinchot. Of course, there is the possibility of Wilson going out of the cabinet if Ballinger succeeds in getting Pinchot's scalp.

Within the last twenty-four hours sentiment in administration circles has undergone something of a change, and is now in favor of the president settling the quarrel at once, and for all time. This, of course, brings the chief executive face to face with the problem of negotiating a settlement under which everybody mixed up in the quarrel can be retained in office.

Pinchot's friends represent him as holding the view that the president cannot well afford to offend the conservation movement throughout the country by chopping off his head.

Taking time by the forelock, Ballinger yesterday issued an order for the conservation of the waterpower rights on public lands. Without waiting for decisive legislation to learn what will eventually be done with many lands valuable for waterpower, the secretary withdrew from disposition over 9000 acres of such land located in the states of Montana, Idaho, Colorado, Washington and Wyoming and New Mexico.

This land now being in the public domain will probably be affected by legislation to be enacted during the next congress. Until congress decides just what is to be done with the land and the terms upon which it is to be utilized, the secretary will keep a tight hold upon it.

$15,000 A YEAR

Court Considers a Proper Allowance For a Baby Heiress

New York, Nov. 13.—That a 3-year-old baby cannot get along without an income of $15,000 a year, if she is heiress to an estate worth $200,000 and yielding an income of nearly $20,000 a year, was the dictum added by Judge Truax in the supreme court.

The lucky baby is Althea R. Ward, daughter of T. P. Ward and granddaughter of the late George Rudd. Thomas Diamond, general guardian of the little girl, was made defendant in the action, the father being the plaintiff.

Brokers Settle With Creditors
Boston, Nov. 13.—Freeman, Rollins & Co., stock brokers, have made a settlement with creditors at 65 cents on the dollar, payable 45 cents cash and 20 cents in notes. Judge Hough has dismissed the petition in bankruptcy filed against them on Sept. 3.

July Weather in November
Boston, Nov. 13.—Greater Boston sweltered in the heat of a mid-summer period yesterday. The thermometer went up to 80 degrees, making it the warmest Nov. 12 that Boston has known since the establishment of the weather bureau in 1871.

Six Inches of Snow in Colorado
Denver, Nov. 13.—Snow fell over Colorado, southeastern Wyoming, southern Utah and northern New Mexico and Arizona. Pueblo and Colorado Springs reported six inches of snow, and in the mountains the fall was heavier.

DELOREY SAYS HE LIED

Alleged Slayer of Annie Mullins Retracts "Confession" to Police

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 13.—"The confession that I made to the police was a pure lie. It was all a lie. I never saw Annie Mullins. Mauth and I were never in Squires field together. I slept at home all night on the night Annie Mullins was murdered and worked for Mr. Harding the next day."

That in brief was the story told on the witness stand by Peter G. Delorey who, with James Mauth, is charged with the murder of Annie Mullins. The courtroom was jammed as he made his sensational denial. He had followed Mauth on the stand, the two accused youths being the first witnesses called by the defense. Mauth had, under five hours of grilling cross examination, stuck to his story that he was at Billerica the night of the crime.

ERROR IN COMPASS

Neglect of Master Also Contributed to Great Marine Disaster

Montreal, Nov. 13.—A court of wreck commissioners here has just completed an inquiry into the cause of the wreck of the steamship Hestia on Old Proprietor's Ledge, Oct. 15, in which thirty-five seamen were drowned. The commissioners found that the wreck was due to the following:

"An error in the compass, aided probably by the fact that the vessel carried a cargo of 800 tons of iron."

"Neglect of the master to take soundings when in sight of Gannet Rock."

"Insufficient allowance for tides and the set of the wind; error of judgment on the part of the master in allowing his ship to get the bearing of the Ganet Rock light."

HAYTI IS TURNED INTO QUAKING BOG

Whole Towns Are Demolished
by Wind and Flood

Boston, Nov. 13.—A special dispatch from Port au Prince, Hayti, to The Post says:

While this whole island has been rocking with earthquake tremors for four days, it has been swept by a cyclone of unparalleled violence and deluged with such a flood from the heavens that its whole little world is a quaking bog.

The face of the land is distorted with canyons and upheavals and whole farms have slipped and slid about like coins in a wet platter.

Port de Paix, torn and demolished by wind and flood, lies in ruins with nineteen dead already found in its wreckage.

Gonaives is razed, its houses blown flat and its terror-dumb inhabitants roused again only by new horrors when a great earth upheaval shook the ground and the bed of the sea and sent a billow of destruction across the land.

Many lie dead in Cape Haytian, drowned by this same sea flood which curled up the customs house there like a leaf and left it a scattered ruin. Death, wreck and ruin is everywhere and the loss of property is incalculable.

Itain has poured steadily, accompanied by terrific thunder and lightning, interspersed with quiverings of the earth for four days continuously and it is four days since the sun has been seen here.

All communications with the interior of the island have been destroyed.

HARVARD MEN SWAMPED

Yale Easily Captures Honors In Dual Cross-Country Race

New Haven, Nov. 13.—Yale won a sweeping victory over Harvard in their dual cross-country run. Yale entered nine and Harvard eight runners and, according to agreement, the first six finishers for both teams scored. Yale won all first six places.

Warren P. Kaynor finished first, winning the time prize. His time was 37 minutes and 50 seconds. The course lay over a rough country district for an estimated distance of 6¼ miles.

Paul Withington, the Harvard crack, collapsed after going about four miles. He was unable to finish and was picked up by a relief party.

Roosevelt Party All Well
London, Nov. 13.—A dispatch from Nakuru, British East Africa, says that a courier arriving there from the Theodore Roosevelt party reports all members of the Roosevelt party well. The report of the death of the former president did not originate at Nakuru.

THE FOOD FISH PROBLEM

The Baltimore papers are telling at great length of the actual occasion which exists for the annual cry about the decline of the shad fisheries in Chesapeake bay and tributary waters. They are calling for two remedies—firstly, national legislation to prohibit the shad fisheries except close to the coast thus leaving them free to migrate undisturbed along the channel in the middle waters; and secondly, a great multiplication of the facilities for artificial hatching and feeding in the minnow stage.

The papers of Portland, Or., and Vancouver, B. C., are telling the same sort of story of the decline of the salmon fisheries in the Columbia and Fraser rivers.

The papers of Duluth, Milwaukee, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo and the rest of the cities of the great lakes tell the same sort of tale.

It all sounds familiar to us here on the New England coast, who know of the work of the steamboat Ganget and the hatchery of Boothbay harbor. Millions of lobster fry are started in life and then distributed along the coast from Cape Ann to Quoddy Head. Experiments in the hatching of mackerel and cod are in progress. The food supply of the people must be preserved at any cost, and in this case the cost appears trifling as compared with the results.

Trouble for Gompers

The Knights of Labor organization has lost the importance it once had, especially since the split which resulted in the organization of the American Federation of Labor. It has dwindled in numbers, but it is still of some consequence in the labor world and the rebuke by its official head of the attitude of President Gompers towards the courts in the matter of his contempt of court case has its sting. General Master Workman Burns at the session of the general assembly of the body in Washington, characterized the conduct of Gompers in the contempt proceedings as "wilful, premeditated violation of the law." He expressed his confidence in the courts of the country, and said that "there is no trust or combination of capital in the world that violates any laws oftener than the trust labor organizations, who resort to more dishonest, unfair and dishonorable methods towards their competitors than any trust or combination in the country." These are hard words, but it is no answer to retort as Mr. Gompers does by saying that Burns "is owned by the Van Cleave National Association of Manufacturers. There is some truth in Burns' accusation, and it has been illustrated in one instance by the same boycott out of which grew the present trouble with the courts. The fact is that human nature is much the same everywhere and great power, whether it consists in the control of capital or labor, of dollars or men, is apt to breed abuse. On general principles a labor trust is not likely to be more tolerable than the other kind.

But the general master workman of the Knights of Labor is not the only accuser of Mr. Gompers. He has to deal with dissatisfaction and revolt in his own ranks as the proceedings at Toronto show. It seems that there are two factions of the electrical workers and that one of them has been outlawed by the executive council of the federation. One of these factions which claims to be the majority, complains that the executive council has enjoined this majority "from exercising their constitutional rights of selecting their own officers, and because these electrical workers have refused to allow their constitutional rights to be encroached upon, this majority has been branded as secessionists. The executive council, the protestants go on to say, "has placed the American labor movement in a ridiculous and inconsistent position. Its members have been hailed as martyrs of judicial tyranny, while they, themselves, are practicing an iron autocracy never before duplicated in the history of unionism." This charge of inconsistency does not come from the head of a rival organization but from within the ranks and it is not to be answered by the contemptuous statement that those who make it are in the pay of the capitalists. It is an old legal maxim that those who seek equity should do equity. When it comes to tyranny it does not make much difference whether it is tyranny of the judicial or executive brand.—Portland Press.

LITERARY NOTES

Language to be Enlarged
The necessity has arisen of discriminating between the operator of an aeroplane and the inventor of one. Until within a short time the men who did the flying were all inventors or developers. Now, however, aeroplanes have reached a stage where they can be trusted to youthful and daring drivers who had nothing to do with making them. These men are merely chauffeurs of the air, courageous, but not necessarily more skilful than thousands of automobile drivers. For a long time a record breaking flight will be a great news story, but the man who achieves the feat may be only a gritty and adventurous spirit who, a month before, was regularly employed to pilot a motor car up a crowded street.—Editorial in Collier's for November 13.

The Legend of Piddinghoe

A feature which readers have learned to expect in recent Christmas numbers of St. Nicholas is a ballad from the pen of Eva L. Ogden, who possesses the gift of making these charming stories in rhyme both amusing and poetic. "The Legend of Piddinghoe," which appears in this Christmas number, will doubtless be ranked as one of the best of this author's welcome contributions. Her admirers will be interested to know that it was woven about this interesting item from the London Globe.

"Of other curious beliefs and traditions in which the magpie plays an unwilling part, surely that which still prevails at Piddinghoe, a small Sussex village near Newhaven, is the most curious. Here, according to Mr. E. V. Lucas, a local sarcasm credits the people of the place with showing their magpies. One would like to learn the origin of so strange a tradition."

The Late Governor John A. Johnson
There was something about the late Governor John A. Johnson that took hold of the heart of the nation. Not since the death of President McKinley has a public man been so regretted by the people of his own state and of the Middle West; all unite in mourning the loss of the governor of Minnesota. That peculiar curl of his lips, which strangers sometimes described as sarcastic, was merely the precursor of a genial smile. His warm heart and kindness never failed to win friends. Even an acquaintance of many years loved Governor Johnson better every time he looked into those blue eyes that were the reflection of a noble soul.

In a sleeping car, on my way to Chicago one night I found him deeply immersed in the pages of a "lovely printed book. Needless to say it was "solid reading matter," for every moment of his life was usefully spent. Later the little volume was laid aside and the Governor then began a conversation which continued far into the morning hours; there was always an earnestness in his words, and a fine quality in his thought, that impressed all who heard him speak. He was a true and noble type of the country editor who gets close to the people, and the story of his life is one of the romances that illuminate the history of the nation.—Joe Mitchell Chaplin in "Affairs at Washington," November National Magazine.

There was but one lodger at the police station last night.

A TIMELY TOPIC

BY
BISHOP JOHN A. VINCENT
Of the Methodist Church

A Minister's

Clothes.

THERE is no question whether a man who preaches should wear a distinctive garb—a black robe, a white robe; should he appear in a dress suit, a frock coat or a "clerical suit," as it is called, or the everyday costume of a business man. D. L. Moody—a great preacher of the day, if you please, appeared in his gray business coat and preached a whole gospel to all classes. Dean Stanley came in his official robes to the pulpit of Westminster cathedral, and I suppose that Stanley was as fervent, as humble, as spiritual minded as Moody. There is a trend in our day and in our church that justifies a few words on this non-essential topic. There is a point of view that makes it of some importance. We cannot easily overestimate the power of every day manhood in the ministry of the Sabbath. A gown may conceal deformities to some extent, and modify the effect of personal eccentricities, but it may at the same time limit individually and transfer the field of religious responsibility and power from every day life to the realm of the ecclesiastical and perfunctory and fashionable.

The first element in the secret power of the pulpit is in the feeling that the pulpit has to do with every day life. Professional millinery may weaken that feeling. I don't emphasize this. I don't urge it. Certainly I dare not dogmatize about it. Now I drop it.

RAILROAD NOTES

William Davis is acting as temporary watchman at the depot.
Repairs are shortly to be made on the roof of the round house.

The carpenters' crew from this city are engaged in making repairs on the company's property at Salisbury.

Sidney Frost, for the past year employed as a brakeman on the Maine Central railroad, has concluded his duties with that corporation and returned to this city.

A special train of three cars with the Myopia Hunt club arrived at North Hampton this afternoon where the club will enjoy a run of six miles in that vicinity.

Erving Liverston, cab cleaner at the station, has concluded his duties there to accept a position at Dover.

Pay day for local employees of the steam and electric roads.

A car of coal was derailed in the Southern division yard this morning. The local wrecking force soon had the car back on the track.

Orders have been issued to conductors and engineers of their passenger trains in which attention is called to the fact that many of the trains are taken by the regular stopping places at the different stations. Many complaints have been made regarding this practice and hereafter all the stops must be made so as to allow of the transfer of passengers without their being forced to run up into the yard or half way over the station platform.

Henry Scannell, assistant superintendent of the Eastern division, has taken cognizance of this condition and orders have been issued to the conductors instructing them to report all failures to obey these orders if they occur hereafter. The instructions are positive and no excuse for failure to report will be tolerated.

NEW UNITED STATES SENATOR

Bismark, N. D., Nov. 13.—Passing all of the favorites in the senatorial race, mountain L. Thompson of Canada, a dark horse won the prize. The appointment of Thompson is announced from Gov. Burke's office.

The trees about the city are being trimmed by the City Improvement society.

BOSTON WHARVES

Not Able to Take Care of the Ships in that Port

Boston, Nov. 13.—With the extension of Boston's foreign commerce the need of increased docking facilities becomes more and more apparent. In the six days ending Thursday night fifteen steamers have arrived here from Europe, the far east and South America, and many of them have been obliged to anchor in the harbor because of lack of berthing room.

It has been the busiest period known in Boston harbor for a long time, and the customs and immigration officials have had their hands full. The different steamship piers have been badly congested with freight, and the stevedores have been obliged to work day and night shifts in order to clear the floor space and make room for the newcomers.

Steamers have been moved about, discharging part of their freight at one pier and then going to some other to finish unloading or to take on their outward shipments.

When the steamer Hyles reached port from South America she was obliged to anchor in the harbor until the Matoppo sailed from Mystic wharf, when she moved up to the vacated berth.

It is conservatively estimated that the value of the cargoes brought in by these 15 steamers will approximate upward of $8,000,000.

A NEW MEDICAL DISCOVERY

A chemist who became pestered of the conviction that the old method of taking internal remedies to cure skin diseases was erroneous, has, after painstaking investigation, discovered that an extract from a particular part of a well known tree possessed superior antiseptic and curative properties, and exerted a wonderful beneficial effect on the skin tissues. It was, however, found that this valuable vegetable extract possessing such desirable qualities was difficult to compound with other ingredients necessary to present it in a form convenient to use. After further investigations and experiments a method of special treatment was devised by which this seemingly insurmountable difficulty was overcome, resulting in a unique combination of ingredients possessing to a marked degree valuable therapeutic properties, the like of which has never before been produced. This important product is known as Cadum, and is now offered to the public at a price which brings it within the reach of even the very poor. Since its recent introduction Cadum has cured numerous cases of chronic eczema, and many other unsightly, irritating, and distressing skin troubles, and this after other treatments have signally failed. Cadum stops the terrible itching of eczema at once, and begins the healing process with the first application. Its action is still more remarkable in less serious skin troubles, such as rash, pimples, blotches, scaly skin, sores, itching piles, eruptions, scratches, scaly skin, blackheads, etc., etc. Surprising results are often obtained by an "overnight" treatment. Many of the cures effected by Cadum may be truly described as remarkable. It is an antiseptic that destroys disease-producing germs, allays inflammation, and exerts a wonderful soothing and healing influence on the skin tissues. Cadum is sold at 10c and 25c a box, by all druggists.

High School Boys Ready for Big Game

Exeter, Nov. 12.—The high school boys on Friday afternoon put the finishing touches to their plays which are to be used against Andover today and from the school here looks likely to win. It has yet to win its first football victory over its rival, and the plays have had this fact in mind during the early season, and this is more incentive to play for victory. The practice was mostly signal work. The boys are all in first class condition, and the coaching they have received this week by Col. R. C. Stevenson has done much to perfect their play. Punched has a strong team also and the struggle should be a grand one. The line-up will be: Churchill or Gilman in, Light in, Dwyer or Robinson in, Fife in, Sheehy in, Nay in, French in, Roode in, Houston in, Locke in, Grunwald in. A. Whitney, P. E. A., '12 has been selected as referee, and S. K. Mitchell, P. E. A., '11, umpire; Max Houston, head linesman, and Harold Weeks, linesman for Exeter. The game will undoubtedly attract a large attendance, and many from the surrounding towns. It will begin at 2.30 p. m.

The pond near the power house of the Exeter, Hampton and Amesbury street railway is to be dammed and used as a skating rink during the coming winter. It is to be flooded so that the sport can be carried on at all times. This should make an ideal place for the sport, and will doubtless receive good patronage, as it can be reached easily from all surrounding towns by the electric cars.

Herrings are being caught in the Swanscott river quite plentiful of late. These fish rarely go so far in from the ocean and their run in the Swanscott is almost unprecedented. John Brewster of Stratford this week made a big catch of them, and some were disposed of here and pronounced quite palatable, while others were salted.

The schooner Ada J. Campbell arrived on Friday with a cargo of coal for H. W. Anderson. It is probably one of the last trips of the season.

CUBA ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Washington, Nov. 12.—Through the United States minister in Havana, the state department has called upon the Cuban government for a statement intended to disclose whether or not the newly negotiated treaty between Spain and Cuba constitutes such an arrangement as would destroy the preferential treatment granted American imports in Cuba under the existing Cuban reciprocity treaty. The continuance of this treaty, which has done so much to foster trade between Cuba and America, depends probably upon the nature of this answer.

Under the terms of the reciprocity treaty, United States imports into Cuba were to be granted a preferential rate ranging between twenty-five per cent and forty per cent in return for a like preferential rate of twenty per cent on Cuban goods coming into the United States. Now news comes from Madrid that Spain has practically completed a new treaty with Cuba, allowing an abatement of sixty per cent on Cuban imports into Spain in return for concessions of a like nature on Spanish goods entering Cuba. What the state department desires to know is whether the rates granted to Spain by Cuba diminish the value of those accorded to the United States.

Article VIII of the American treaty with Cuba contains this language: "The concession herein granted on the part of the said Republic of Cuba to the products of the United States shall likewise be and shall continue during the term of this convention preferential in respect to all like imports from other countries." Spain had been levying her maximum tariff rates upon imports from Cuba and it may be for the exact rates in the new treaty are unknown here) that the Spanish government merely proposes to place Cuba upon an equality with the minimum tariff countries, in which case it could scarcely be claimed that the United States would suffer an injustice. But it should appear that it is proposed by Spain to grant Cuban goods an undue preference, then it may be expected that the maximum rates under the Payne-Aldrich tariff act will be imposed on Spanish goods coming into the United States, while if Cuba accords Spain rates that diminish the value of the concessions in our reciprocity treaty, the United States may avail of the provisions of article 10 of the reciprocity treaty with Cuba and terminate that arrangement within six months.

TEACHERS' MEETING

Many a Portsmouth Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information

When you back gives out; Becomes lame, weak or aching; When urinary troubles set in, Your kidneys are "in a bad way." Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Here is local evidence to prove it: Thomas Entwistle, city marshal, 47 Cabot street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I think as much of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did years ago when I first used them. At that time I was in a bad way as the result of kidney trouble and though I had repeatedly tried remedies to get relief, my efforts were in vain. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my attention, I procured a supply at Phillips' drug store and began their use as directed. In a short time I was rid of kidney trouble and felt better in every way. I occasionally have a slight pain in my back, but a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills give me prompt relief."

MORGAN'S MILLIONS BACK OF DEAL

Mellen To Be President of Boston & Maine and Backed by Morgan.

A writer in the Boston American gives the following analysis of the situation with regard to the future of the Boston & Maine railroad. "Charles S. Mellen will be elected president of the Boston & Maine railroad at the next meeting of the directors Tuesday. At the same meeting J. Pierpont Morgan will be made a director. President Lucius M. Tuttle will be retired on a pension of $10,000 yearly and probably will be given a position with the company outside the presidency.

"The appearance of Mr. Morgan in Boston & Maine affairs is significant. It means that he will control the financial policies of both the New York, New Haven and Hartford and the Boston & Maine, and that President Mellen, backed by the Morgan millions, will be the railroad czar of New England. The Morgan-Mellen combination will have unlimited power. Mr. Morgan already is a director of the New Haven.

"The election of Mr. Mellen to the head of the Boston & Maine, with the approval of Mr. Morgan, probably marks what will be one of the biggest railroad organizations in the world. This is nothing less than the linking of five of the greatest ports on the Atlantic coast to San Francisco by a system of 30,000 miles of rails or more than one-eight of the total mileage of the country.

"The proposed combination includes the Pennsylvania system with 11,000 miles, the New York & New Haven, the Boston & Maine and the New York, Ontario & Western. "The merger of the Boston & Maine and the New Haven under the Morgan-Mellen control involves nearly 10,000 miles of road. The practical end of the great combination will be under the supervision of Mr. Mellen. Mr. Morgan will look after the financial end.

"The enormous scale of the proposed combination is indicated by the statement that the rehabilitation of the Boston & Maine alone will involve the expenditure of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000. This will include extensive equipment additions, solution of the electrification problem and the placing of the road on the New Haven standard.

"Mr. Mellen is believed to be the best man to direct this work, on account of his former connection with the system. He will deal with the transportation problem. Additional locomotives and rolling stock will be at once transferred to the Boston & Maine.

"The retirement of President Tuttle from the Boston & Maine presidency means the withdrawal of the two directors who somewhat personally represent him on the board. These are Edgar J. Rich of Winchester and Earl A. Ryder of Arlington. Mr. Rich has been general solicitor and Mr. Ryder clerk of the corporation.

"Their places as directors, will go to Mr. Morgan and to William Skinner of Holyoke, both now members of the New Haven directorate."

BITS OF SPORT

The Harvard Stadium and the Yale football teams will be the scene of the two big games of the country today. At Harvard field the husky Dartmouth team will line up against Harvard, and unless I am away off in my line of dope, Harvard will have the grandest time of the season winning from the wearers of the green. The betting which started 8 to 5 with Harvard the favorite, has dropped to 2 to 7 on Harvard, but just how they arrive at these odds puzzles me. Dartmouth has a strong and well drilled team, that has shown that they can be depended upon in a pinch such as the Princeton game last Saturday, when with everything breaking bad for them, they got a tie. Harvard has, without doubt, as good a team as they have ever produced, but it would not surprise me to see both Dartmouth and Yale win their games. Just how much of a game Princeton will give Yale remains to be seen but it looks like a sure thing for Yale—but by no means a walk-over.

Locally, the only football game to day will be at Kittery, where the teams from the New Hampshire and Wisconsin play. This is the second game the last being a tie, and there is a great interest on the part of the crews, and both are backing their teams with all of their small change.

I have received the following letter which may be referred to "Bill" Doy manager of the Iona basketball team:

Sporting Editor Chronicle: The Madison basketball team would like to play in this city with any good team, paying a fair guarantee.

T. S. Lawrence, Mgr.
48 Myrtle St.,
Charlestown, Mass.

The candlepin record or the Arcade alley, and for that matter the city, was broken on Thursday evening when Herbie W. Ham rolled a single string of 150. The former record was 145, made by Welsh. Ham is a comparatively new bowler and the record string was somewhat of a chance. His average does not reach 90. Harold Ham, the well-known bowler, and member of the Portsmouth team, has been given the credit for the big string, but "Buck" has been busy denying the praise. "Buck" is, however a corking good bowler, and while he has not reached that mark, he can be counted on for a hundred string about any time.

The club bowling league, which was such a success last season, will be organized again this winter, and the schedule will be started in December. Just what teams will enter are not known as yet, but the Country Club, Royal Arcanum, P. A. C., Elks, Catholic Union and in all probability the Warwick club will enter teams. If three or four other teams could be made up it would insure a fine schedule.

H. W. Jocks, the crack welter-weight wrestler of Montreal, who is to appear at the Music Hall on Wednesday evening, November 17 in a preliminary bout, arrived in this city Friday morning with his manager, Mr. William Welch. Jocks is out for the long green and is anxious to have a side hit placed with this man Grenier. Charlesworth is in hard training for his coming bout with Hanson, and can be seen during his morning's work on the road to the Plains, where he is covering a few miles every morning. From all reports this man is in the pink of condition, and promises his bout with Hanson to be full of life and to open the eyes of the public as a marvel on the mat. Charlesworth recently appeared at the Columbia theatre, Boston, and made good.

The high school 1912 football team were defeated by the Tiger A. C. on Friday afternoon, by a score of 5 to 0.

A DRESS SUIT CASE MYSTERY

For a Time Startled Kittery Point.

Friday afternoon some scholars of the Mitchell school at Kittery Point, while playing in a grove near the school house, found a suit case. Principal Hodgdon was notified and he opened it and found it contained considerable goods such as tea, coffee, etc.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Clarkson was notified and he made an investigation and it was later found that the goods were taken from a house in that town.

THE DEATH OF MAJ. WEBSTER

Mrs. Arthur Wilkin, the daughter of Maj. Frank D. Webster whose death was announced last week, writes to the family from Paris under date of Nov. 2:

We are in great grief. Dear father passed away peacefully last Sunday morning, Oct. 31 at 6 a. m. Last Wednesday morning he seemed in his usual good health and left the house about 10:30 with the two little dogs, for his regular morning walk. He went a short distance and managed to get back to the entrance of the house, when he fell up against the door, stricken with paralysis of the right side and of speech. When we first got him into the house he tried to tell us something, but it was impossible to understand him. For four days he lay in bed just breathing. The doctors came twice a day and nurses were in constant attendance, but he was too far gone—nothing could save him. The funeral takes place today at noon, from the American church, and he is to be buried in a pretty little cemetery near us.

A PLAGUE OF PESTILENCE

Niagara Falls Called a Plague Spot of Typhoid Fever

Rochester, Nov. 13.—Conditions at Niagara Falls were severely criticized by Prof. W. T. Sedgwick of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at the session of the conference of sanitary officers of the state.

"One of the worst plague spots, if not the worst, in respect to typhoid fever, in the United States," he said. "is Niagara Falls, in which the death rate from this disease ranged from 107.9 to 188.6 per hundred thousand in from 1897 to 1907.

"The sewage pollution of Niagara Falls is a matter of national concern, for Niagara Falls is visited annually by hundreds of thousands of persons from all parts of the country. It is a disgrace to the state of New York and to the United States.

AT ST. ANSELMS COLLEGE

The first meeting of the S. A. A. A. for the scholastic year 1909-10 was held on Friday night with Rev. P. Cornelius presiding. After remarks by the president concerning the by-laws of association, the members proceeded to elect officers, the following being chosen, President, the Rev. P. Cornelius; vice president, John H. Finn, of Quincy, Mass.; secretary, John H. Gillick of Lowell, Mass.; treasurer, Daniel E. Ready of Lowell, Mass.; property managers, Herman Brandt and William Molloy.

Fr. Cornelius then spoke on the benefits derived from being a member of the athletic association, inasmuch as all are eligible to participate in any of the various sports that are played at the college. He then spoke on the success of the football team this season, and expressed a wish that a greater interest be taken in the team; there are games arranged for Varick's park on Nov. 20 and also on the morning of Thanksgiving day, with the possibility of a game for the coming Saturday, Nov. 13. The president then complimented the members on the choice of officers.

John E. Finn is also captain of the basketball team. Daniel E. Ready is manager of the baseball team, while John H. Gillick is also manager of the basketball team. Both managers expect very fast teams and at present are arranging very extensive schedules.

The McLain sisters are making a big hit at Music Hall with their singing and dancing act.

REGULATES KIDNEYS AND ENDS BACKACHE

Your Out-of-Order Kidneys Act Fine and Bladder Misery Vanishes

No man or woman here whose kidneys are out-of-order, or who suffers from backache or bladder misery, can afford to leave Page's Diuretic untried.

After taking several doses, all pains in the back, sides or loins, rheumatic twinges, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, dizziness tired or worn-out feeling and other symptoms of clogged, sluggish kidneys simply vanish.

Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, discolored water and all bladder misery ends.

The moment you suspect the slightest kidney or bladder disorder, or feel rheumatism gains, don't continue to be miserable or worried, but get a fifty-cent treatment of Page's Diuretic from your druggist and start taking as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which is so harmless or will effect so thorough and prompt a cure.

This unusual preparation goes direct to the cause of trouble, distributing its cleansing healing and vitalizing influence directed upon the organs and glands affected and completes the cure before you realize it. A few days' treatment of Page's Diuretic means clean, healthy active kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and you feel fine.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Page, Thompson & Page, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Accept only Page's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—from any drug store—anywhere in the world.

STEAMER BACHE TROUBLES

Case to be Reviewed by Secretary Nagel at Washington

Washington, Nov. 12.—Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor has decided to reconsider the case of Capt. Hodgkins of the coast survey steamer Bache, who is a Massachusetts man and other officials of the coast survey, against whom irregular ties were charged recently by Ex-Assistant Secretary McHarg.

Secretary Nagel bases his action upon the fact that he has made it a rule never to make any changes in any bureau of his department until after the chief of bureau has had an opportunity to be heard on the subject.

In this case Supt. Tittman of the coast survey was in Europe while the investigation of his bureau was made under the direction of Mr. McHarg. Mr. Tittman had a long talk with Secretary Nagel a day or two ago, at which time he protested against the suspension of several of his subordinates with being consulted. Secretary Nagel saw the justice of this position.

It is now reported that Mr. Tittman will recommend that Mr. McHarg's orders be not carried out, in that event it is probable that Capt. Hodgkins will be safe.

HERMIT'S HOME RUINED

Manchester, Nov. 13.—The police learn that the home of Charles F. Lambert, the hermit of the Mosquito pond district, has been visited by hoodlums and partially demolished while the venerable man was a patient in a local hospital, where he is being treated for illness. The windows of his abode have been broken, the door smashed in and other acts of vandalism committed. On being reported to the police, Chief Healy's men were successful in obtaining clues as to the perpetrators of the outrages.

GREAT FALLS HOTEL SOLD

Somersworth, Nov. 13.—The sale is announced of the Great Falls hotel, the leading hotel of this city, together with four stores adjoining of Main street to John Currier of Augusta, Me., by Hon. Joseph D. Roberts of Rollinsford, for many years the owner. It is understood that the sale price was $20,000. Sydney P. Greenwood, for several years proprietor, will, it is also understood, retire.

ORDAINED BY BAPTIST MINISTER

Concord, Nov. 13.—Rev. Lyman Rollins, a native of this city, was on Friday night ordained to the ministry of the Baptist denomination, the service being held in the Curtis memorial church, of which Mr. Rollins is a member and of which as a younger man he was an efficient helper.

The stock market has touched a number of local J. P. Morgans.

HITCHCOCK TO CHANGE ASSISTANTS

Clean sweep of Roosevelt Appointees Causes Political Gossip

Washington, Nov. 13.—Postmaster-General Hitchcock, it is said, will name new men as his four assistants. This will mean the retirement of Charles P. Grandfield, first assistant postmaster general; Joseph Stewart, second, and P. V. De Graw, fourth. The resignation of Abraham L. Lash, the third assistant, already has been delivered.

All four assistants were Roosevelt appointees. As a result there has been some comment on the possible political significance of such a clean sweep. Mr. Hitchcock's motive, however, is understood by his friends to be merely to promote his new business policies in the department.

The assistant secretaries of the treasury who were in office March 4 last are now out. With the exception of Mr. Adee the assistant secretaries of state were promptly changed.

The political gossip attached to Mr. Hitchcock's proposed shakeup comes from the recent reports of a conspiracy by Roosevelt, followers to discredit the administration. But this, it is declared today, had nothing to do with Mr. Hitchcock's course. He is looking for men of the highest business ability to fill the four posts which will become vacant. He wants all the aid he can get in his movement to wipe out the postal deficit and put the department on a paying basis.

MINISTERS SAW DRAMA

Feature of the Production of "The Servant in the House" at Manchester

A delegation of clergymen attended the production of "The Servant in the House," at Manchester on Thursday night. Of the production, Rev. Thomas Chalmers, D. D., wrote to the Manchester Mirror, as follows:

"The Servant in the House" is a beautiful dramatic setting to the Christian doctrine of brotherly love. It does for Christianity through the stage what "In His Steps" did for Christianity through the medium of the novel. It is a great theme—a theme which has given power to the pulpit for nineteen hundred years. When well conceived and worked out it seems capable of attracting interest on the stage also. But I doubt if the theme is elemental enough to make a permanently popular play. It is strong in didactic qualities, but not so strong in tragic or comic. The acting was intelligent to a high degree well designed to give vigorous interpretation to the theme.

PLAYING INDIAN

One of the Cendroy triplets, who left camp at Plum Island and arrived in Portsmouth to paint the town red, had an experience on Thursday which he will have cause to remember for some time.

He was making things warm for a few members at Tramps' Retreat near the Creek when he was seized by several fellow tramps, tied to a post and a fire of waste and cinders was kindled around him.

Rumor has it that he will later write a book on his experience.

NATIVE OF THIS CITY DEAD

Miss Eleanor Beal daughter of Joseph and Eleanor (Melcher) Beal, died at her home in Newfields on Friday, aged 83. She was born in this city January 17, 1826, and resided her most of her life.

She was a zealous member of its Universalist church, and many years a teacher in the Sunday school.

For many years she made her home with her brother, the late Henry R. Beal, head of the former Boston firm of Beal, Higgins & Anderson. Upon his death she went to Newfields to live with another brother, Edward J. Beal, now the last of a family of seven. The burial will be at Portsmouth.

Railroad accidents have been coming fast lately one way and another.

Figures wanted for Docking a Revenue cutter

Concrete Oil Tank Bids

Bids will be opened at the navy bureau of yards and docks Dec. 4 for the construction at the Boston navy yard of a concrete oil tank storage house, 50 feet by 75 and 24 feet deep. Similar tanks are to be constructed at other yards on the Atlantic coast and the supply ship Arethusa, now at the Mare Island yard, is to be brought around to the Atlantic and go into service as an oil tank ship.

Hist at Key West

The Hist has arrived at Key West on her way south.

Want Figures for Work on Revenue Cutter

Capt. Wilner, commanding the yard and station has been requested to submit figures for the docking of the revenue cutter Gresham. It will be remembered that this boat was expected to dock here about six months ago and came into the harbor it was thought for that purpose. She later disappeared and nothing has since been heard from the ship relative to docking here until Friday. It is expected that bids for the necessary work will be asked from the several yards along the coast and private shipbuilding firms as well to get the lowest possible figures for the work of painting.

Another New Official for the Big Ship

Lieut. F. H. Schofield has been ordered to the U. S. S. New Hampshire as executive officer.

On Probation

Assistant Secretary Winthrop has worked out a plan for a probationary period for second lieutenants in the Marine Corps and assistant paymasters in the navy, appointed from civil life. The probationary period given medical officers has proved satisfactory, and it is proposed now to submit second lieutenants and assistant paymasters to the same tests. The period will be six months or a year.

Coming to the Surface

The contractors on the quay wall have reached the low water mark in the laying of granite.

Will Be Ready on the 26th

According to all plans the work on the U. S. S. Wisconsin now under way will be completed and the ship ready for sailing orders on November 26.

Ten Helpers Called

A call for ten shipfitter's helpers was sent out today by the manufacturing department.

Sent to the Yankton

The twenty-eight foot motor driven whale boat built at this yard for the U. S. S. Yankton was sent to that ship at New York yard today by freight.

It's Settled at Last

A long and heated argument which has stirred things up to some extent in naval circles has been brought to a close in the selection of a commander of the hospital ship Solace. The honor goes to a medical officer in the person of Surgeon George Plekorell. However the vessel will have a merchant crew and officers.

Two Yards to Draw From This List on West Coast

At Mare Island yard they are to establish an eligible register of ship draftsmen, marine engine and boiler draftsmen, and electrical draftsmen of all grades.

Such applicants as pass a satisfactory examination will be eligible for appointment in the naval service at any time within two years from the date of examination.

The pay of ship draftsmen, marine engine and boiler draftsmen, and electrical draftsmen is as follows:

Ship draftsmen—First class, $5.04; second class, $4.40; third class, $4; fourth class, $3.60.

Assistant ship draftsmen—First class, $3.28; second class, $2.80; third class, $2.40; fourth class, $2.00. Marine engine and boiler draftsmen—First class, $5.04; second class, $4.72; third class, $4.48.

Assistant marine engine and boiler draftsmen—First class, $4.00; second class, $3.76; third class, $3.52.

Copyist marine engine and boiler draftsmen—First class, $3.28; second class, $3.04; third class, $2.80.

Electrical draftsmen—First class, $5.04; second class, $4.72; third class, $4.48.

Assistant electrical draftsmen—First class, $4; second class, $3.76; third class, $3.52.

Copyist electrical draftsmen—First class, $3.28; second class, $3.04; third class, $2.80.

PETER, THE OLDEST CAT IN THE CITY

"Peter," the oldest cat in the city, and probably in the state, is the pet of Mr. and Mrs. James Plaisted of Thornton street, and no family who harbors a cat can boast of a more intelligent feline.

Peter has enjoyed life for nearly twenty years and his extended age is due to the good care given him by his mistress. He looks for his bath every week and should the family fail to carry out this custom he will make it known in quick order and there is nothing like peace in the house until he is given his plunge. He is an early riser and when he thinks it is time for the family to conclude their morning nap he takes upon himself the duty of arousing the family by going to the chamber and crying until somebody makes a noise like getting up.

In addition to his bath he takes Don's pills as a health regulator and the family have never seen the day when he could be called a sick cat.

When Mrs. Plaisted wants the butcher, fishman, ice man or grocer, she informs the cat of her want and he immediately takes his place at the window with a good view of the street. When either of the men wanted comes in sight he hurries to Mrs. Plaisted to whom he makes the fact known by his cries and a constant pulling at her clothing.

His diet is composed mostly of sweet stuff and he can make a meal any time on all kinds of pie.

Another remarkable feature is the condition of his teeth that are as good today as they were the first year he was on earth.

Peter is a well behaved animal and he has always kept by himself declining to associate with any of the other cats of the neighborhood.

He is of the tiger species and weighs about twenty pounds.

Our Idea in Advertising

Is not so much to sell a Suit or Overcoat as it is to get a customer. There is a big difference between selling a man a suit and getting him for a regular customer.

But our object is to sell a man such a good suit the first time that he comes back for another one next season, and keeps coming back until he gets the habit of coming,—a habit that he finds too good to break.

There are many things about our Suits and Overcoats that we could tell you, but long years of experience tells us, that a satisfied customer is one of the best advertisements a Tailor can have.

Let us make you a Suit or Overcoat this season.

Portsmouth should send an audience to Music Hall on Monday evening that would crowd it to the doors to see the "Servant in the House." This play crowded the Jefferson theatre at Portland for a week and it is doing the same in every other city.

GENERAL GREELEY GOES

Boston, Nov. 12.—Among the 709 passengers sailing by the White Star liner Canopic at 12.30 today for Naples was General A. W. Greeley, the well known Arctic explorer, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Greeley, and their two daughters Miss Rose and Miss Gertrude. They will spend the winter in Italy.

Lucien Memminger, American vice consul at Naples was also a saloon passenger.

WILL RETIRE SOON

NO SHORT

LOBSTERS

Found by the Fish and Game Commissioners

Fish and game commissioners Wentworth and Clark quietly drifted into town on Friday and took a cruise about the docks, looking over the lobster cars.

At the South end they landed on the wharves just as the fishermen came in with their catch for the market and watched every move of the unloading.

In each place that they visited they found lobsters covering the law and were decidedly pleased to find everything as they did.

Reports have gone out in other parts of the state that short lobsters are plenty in this city, consequently the two commissioners came here, with no warning of their arrival and searched everywhere they possibly could for the shorts, but there was nothing doing and they left Portsmouth satisfied that the report circulated about lobsters was not in any way justified.

HOT FOOTBALL GAME

Between Elevens from the Farragut and Haven Schools

The football teams of the Haven and Farragut schools met on the circuit this morning and played from ten to eleven o'clock when the score stood 10 to 5 in favor of the Haven boys.

The Farragut boys said that only one period or half of the play had been completed, while the Haven boys said both halves had been played and that they were winners. The Farragut boys said, "Winners of an unfinished game," and there was some other strong talk between the backs of the two teams but nobody came to blows. The play did not continue.

Connor was referee and S. Levine umpire. The lineup was:

Haven	Farragut
Garote lb.	Clark
Conlon lg.	Stosberg
Levine lt.	Quinn
Amazeen c.	Hersey
Cassidy rt.	Thomas mgr.

JOKE STARTS STRIKE

Schneetady, N. Y., Nov. 12.—A joke resulted in the strike of 1,100 men at the plant of the General Electric company here. A practical joker smeared wheelbarrow handles with paint and poured sand down the back of a man who remonstrated. The two fought and were discharged. The reinstatement of the victim of the joke was refused and the strike followed.
